Jack E. Johnson: Journal Articles on Keyboarding

"Teaching Computers Via Distance Learning," International Association of Computer Information Systems Proceedings, October 1997.

"Inquiry-based Learning Via the Internet, by Joan Hubbard, Alexa B. North, and Jack E. Johnson, Business Education Forum, April 1996, Vol. 50, No. 4, pp. 47-50.

"Page Design in Desktop Publishing," Educational Technology, June 1990, pp. 43-45. Co-authored with Dr. Alexa B. North.

"Desktop Publishing--Integration with the Business Education Curriculum," Business Education World, Winter 1990, pp. 31, 33-34. Co-authored with Ms. Dee Anne Dill.

"Computer Literacy–A Necessity, Not a Luxury," Business Education Forum, December 1986, pp. 12-13, 16.

"Linking Typewriting with the Electronic Office – Part I," Business Education World, Fall 1986, pp. 5-7.

"Linking Typewriting with the Electronic Office – Part II," Business Education World, Spring 1987, pp. 5, 7-8.

"Get Ready, Get Set, Enter," NATEBE Notes, Fall, 1984.

"Teaching Word Processing," NATEBE Notes, Fall 1983, pp. 5-7.

"Line Count Adds Realism to Production Typing," Business Education World, November/ December 1982, p. 20-21.

"Writing Production Materials–A Behind-the-Scenes Look," Business Education World, January/February 1982, pp. 10-11.

"The Creative Co-op: A Mini-Simulation in the Typing Class," Business Education World, January/February 1980, pp. 31, 45.

"Adult Education–What's the Difference?" Business Education World, January/February, 1979. Co-authored with Scot Ober.

"Improve Typing, Spelling Through Good Posture," Today's Secretary, January 1978.

"The Stopwatch in Typewriting," Business Education World, Spring, 1977. Co-authored with Alan C. Lloyd.

"The Teaching of Typewriting–A Metrics Approach," Virginia Business Education Newsletter, September 1976.

"Learning Language Arts Skills in Gregg Shorthand: A Research Study," Business Education World, May/June, 1976.